
2021-2022 Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Appeal Form

The U. S. Department of Education, state governments and Wellesley College require that all students who receive financial assistance make satisfactory progress toward their degree. Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is the measure of a student's overall academic progress including both a minimum cumulative grade point average and course completion rate. These standards may be found in the SAP policy at www.wellesley.edu/sfs/info/policies.

Students who do not maintain SAP are not eligible to receive federal or state financial aid. At this time, it has been determined that you are not currently maintaining SAP and are therefore not currently eligible to receive federal or state financial assistance. However, this form allows you to appeal this decision.

Appeal Procedure: An appeal must be submitted within 14 days of official notice of ineligibility.

1. Complete all sections of this appeal form
2. Submit a carefully written personal statement describing:
 - a. What circumstances prohibited you from meeting the academic standards of the College
 - b. What has changed that will allow you to meet the academic standards of the College
 - c. What steps you will take to ensure that you meet the academic standards of the College going forward.
3. Submit supporting documentation.
